1. In restricted session at the United States Intelligence Board (USIB) meeting on 6 January with the Deputy Director, National Reconnaissance Organization (DD/NRO) present, the Chairman introduced items one and two on the agenda (references a. and b. above) by stating that these two evaluations had been produced at his request. He pointed out that reference a. had originally been circulated to the Board for information only but, at the request of General Carroll, had been placed on the agenda.

2. The Acting DIA Member stated this request had been made because General Carroll felt reference a. was an excellent paper and because it reflected a new type of analysis which should be discussed by USIB. General Fitch also said that General Carroll recommended that USIB note the Committee on Overhead Reconnaissance (COMOR) evaluation in reference a. with particular attention to the Conclusions contained therein. General Fitch also proposed that COMOR be tasked to make recommendations regarding just when the new orbit should be used and under what circumstances it would be most useful.
